YANKS POUND SHOCKER, THEIR JINX, IN ONE INNING, AND BEAT BROWNS, 4-0

LEADERS HELPLESS

Pipp Starts Rally in the Fourth That Results in Four Runs.

SALVO OF HITS FOLLOWS

Scott, Schang and Witt Help Put Team Half Game From the Top.

By W. O. MCGEEHAN.

"Half a game, half a game, half a game onward," as Old Al Tennyson might have chirped if he had been laureating around in the Yankee dug-

For the Yanks flattened their most potent jinx yesterday and put themselves within half a game of first place. Yes, sir; they socked their Nemesis, Mr. Urban Shocker, for four runs in the fourth inning. "While all the world wondered," Old Al Tennyson would put in at this point. In the meantime Bob the Gob Shawkey, the graceful ex-mariner, held the Browns' sluggers safe for a shutout.

The lightning which grazed the Gob's rm on the previous day seemed to old soup bone. It was never working better, and it seemed to have soaked e of the speed of the thunderbolt. Miller Huggins is thinking of exposing the entire pitching staff to the thunder showers. Umpire Chill demanded to see one of the baseballs pitched by Shawkey. He dropped it immediately upon receiving the pellet. declaring that he had been shocked.

Vanks suddenly developed a hit and run attack that just naturally knocked Shocker silly or to the importation of a L'Hommedieu Huston always will be a matter of debate. This doctor, one Thrall, who has studied under some of the best voodoo doctors, medicine men and tabu experts, went into the catacombs beneath the stadium just before the fourth inning.

He was accompanied by Col. Huston and other well known scientists. The voodoo doctor produced a silver phial or nesses say, some equally strange decan-

While these strange and practically under the stands there was great activity upon the playing field. The weird but the decantations continued slowly.

Wally Pipp, the veteran of the Yanks in point of service, took the first smash at the Jinx. He drove a clean single to right. Ward rolled one down to Shocker's feet and Pipp took second while Aaron was being thrown out. Scott lashed a single to center and Pipp raced home.

Babe Ends the Incantations.

With Babe Ruth up, the incantations beneath the stands ceased suddenly as the decantations abruptly ran out, owing to the presence of so many investigators into the black magic. The Babe lifted a high fly to Tobin just as the voodeo dector pocketed the mysterious phial and walked out into the sunlight slightly overcome by the strain under which he had been. You can judge for yourself as to whether the jinx was dispelled by the hit and run attack or by the dark arts of the voodoo dector.

While Shawkey did not wear the fiaming red fiannel shirt in which he usually sails off to battle, the Gob was at his best vesterday afternoon, and when the Gob is steering his curved ball by the compass there is no better pitcher ashore or afloat. On the other band, when the curved ball is not breaking right the Yanks man the lifeboats and wireless the bull pen.

In the eighth inning a young man in a brown mackinaw with his cap on the back of his head made an uncostentatious getaway along the left field boundary fence. It was Mr. Urban Shocker, late Nemesis of the Yanks, who had been knocked right out of a job. This is the fourth successive time that the Shocker linx has been overthrown. One of these days the Yanks will begin to suspect that a Nemesis is just a guy to be batted out of the box.

Ruth's Bunt Another Surprise.

In the seventh inning Mr. Bronkie, who was third basing for the Browns, received a great mental shock. Babe Ruth came up with one out. Instead of swinging savagely the Babe turned his bat lightly and bunted one down to third.

The sight of Ruth bunting overcame Mr. Bronkie. He collapsed and savaged

The sight of Ruth bunting overcame Mr. Bronkie. He collapsed and sagged down into the grass. For a moment it looked as though he had fainted from surprise. Before he could recover from the shock Ruth had dashed down to first base.

Yank customers were starting to despair in the second inning. Aaron Ward, the first Yankee up, got a three hagger. He did not move from the shot. With none out the Yanks could not score him and it looked very much as though the "croocial" series would be considerable of a bloomer for the Yanks. It is probably this display that drove Col. Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston to resort to the incantations and the decantations of the voodoo doctor.

shawkey was a joy to the eye in the ninth inning, when he struck out Sisler, the league leader, and Kenneth Williams, the home run king pro tem. of the American League. That was final proof that the jinx had been laid. Today the Chicago White Sox, led by Evers, the Crab, and Gleason, the Scorpion, the two gray Children of the Zodiac, arrive.

BOB SHAWKEY HOLDS Giants Beaten by Cubs; Miller Hits Two Homers NORMALCY AND LOSE AS CARDINALS WIN

Nehf Easy, 8 to 4; Jones Goes Out, but Cheeves Stops Them.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD CHICAGO, July 14 .- Folding up before Virgil Cheeves after they had begun by batting Percy Jones out of the box in inning, the Giants were beaten by the Cubs to-day by a score of 8 to 4. Kelleher singled to right in the second inning and got to third when Kelly, after catching Krug's pop fly, threw wild over Nehf's head in an effort to double Kelleher off first base. O'Farrell's out on a grounder to Bancroft sent Kelleher to third, but Cheeves fouled to Kelly.

The Cubs went to the front by scoring two runs in the fourth inning, Kelleher singled to right and Krug doubled down the left field foul line, scoring Kelleher. Meusel heaved the ball to the plate too late to nall Kelleher and Krug dashed to third. He scored a moment later while Frisch was throwing out O'Farrell.

Pittsburgh, July 14.—Cooper was in rare form to-day, holding Boston to three hits, while the Pirates took advantage of the wildness of all three Boston pitchers and won, 6 to 1. But for Tierney's error Cooper would have attained a shut out. The score:

Snyfer's double when Frisch banged a single to right. The drive got through Barber and hopped onto the fence, Frisch racing to third. Meusel doubled to left center, scoring Frisch, and wehn Jones, again losing control of the ball, walked Young he was taken out.

With Cheeves pitching for the Cubs, Kelly hit one through the box, but Hollecher whisked the ball out of the dust back of second base and started a double play that retired Young and the batter.

Brooklyn also presented a new face. It was worn by Chuck Ward at short. Hi Myers played second yesterday for Jimmy Johnston, who has an injured thumb, but while Myers helped in that unexpeceted victory his throwing from second was that of an outfielder, and he was sent back to center, Olson going from short to second. Olson has been tried at second several times this season and some of his boots there equaled his famous performances at short. Johnston will not be back in the lineup for Brooklyn until the Dodgers get home after their series in Pittsburgh and Chicago. His fielding and timely batting are missed.

Rixey issued one base on balls. It came in the third ining and was followed by Cadore's single to right, which Harper fumbled, Deberry reaching third with one out. Olson grounded to Babe Pinelli and a double play went through while the leaden footed Deberry was held on third. Duncan made a diving catch of High's fly and Deberry was left. Deberry singled in the fifth with one out and Cadore beat a hit to Pinelli. Olson and High popped files to the infield. Bert Griffith's triple in the sixth was the last hit off Rixey.

Reds Hit Cadore Early.

The Reds were sampling Cadore for the first four innings, but he was good enough to stop them when they had three on with one out in the fourth. Harper opened the fourth with a single to short and took third on Bohne's single to center. Hargraye rolled to High and Harper was run down. Pinelli drew one of the two passes from Cadore, filling the bases. Rimmick Haed out to High and Risey raised a fly to High. DODGERS RETURN TO HOMER FOR HORNSBY THE LISTENING POST

AND SHE SMOKES, TOO. She only moves to leave behind A long and shining track, And waiting there, with eager mind, We know she'll take us back Across the miles we've traveled far Since we set out to roam,

Where shining in the windows are The little lights of home. She whistles gayly at the horde Who, with impatience keen, Are set to clamber all aboard

JESS WILLARD.

Jess Wiffard is doing some active training in California. If Jess really expects to box Dempsey again it behooves him to do several things that he failed to do at Toledo. In the first place he should get himself an exrienced trainer—a wise, quick thinking man, old at the game, who can of use to him in his corner when he enters the ring. Then he should tet a flock of the toughest sparring partners that money can hire and fight hem every day. This exhibition stuff against men he can easily handle is no good. The ideal thing would be for him to box with Wills, Greb, Brennan, Miske and Tom Gibbons. He couldn't get those fellows, but he should get the closest to them that he can. What Willard needs to get into condition for a fight is plenty of road work and plenty of fighting. They say that he appears to be in surprisingly good physical condition.

Dustin Farnum is to appear in a deep sea movie. There is no truth in the story that the film will be shot on the Skokie course after a rain.

Evidence that woman is illogical might be furnished by the fact that after spending thousands of years perfecting the discovery of which a hairpin can be put she has now gone in for hobbed hair.
